Staffing News - June 2005

Taleo Corp. has launched a new online recruiting and staffing tool called Taleo Business Edition. The new application offers a comprehensive staffing management solution for small and mid-size organizations. The web-based tool is designed to integrate easily with an organizations existing applications, such as finance, payroll and HR information systems. The Taleo Business Edition is a purely web-based subscription service, so there is no traditional software to install, upgrade or maintain.
