

Taleo Business Edition Sets Onora Group Up for Future Growth

Challenges

- Onora Group is a small firm of two employees: one focuses on growing the business while the other focuses on recruiting.
- The company was looking for a solution that integrated applicant tracking with its customer relationship management (CRM) functions and fit within its budget.
- With no IT resources, the company needed a solution that would be quick to implement and easy to use.
- The company also needed a solution that was scalable to grow as it grows.

Solution

Onora Group LLC chose Taleo Business Edition for its robust functionality, ease-of-use, rapid implementation, and price point. The company uses the solution externally to manage relationships with its clients and prospective candidates as well as internally to manage the entire recruiting lifecycle.

Results

- Business operates efficiently and the company remains competitive with accurate data, metrics, and automated recruiting processes.
- Focuses on providing a high-level of service to clients rather than on administrative recruiting tasks.
- Implemented and customized the solution easily and quickly—within one day.
- Ease of use allows the company to bring any new hires on fast and use the solution immediately.
- Provides scalability to grow as the company plans future growth.
